Webinar and Panelist Biography

Byron is Nasdaq's Global Head of Board Advisory and co-leader of the Nasdaq Center for Board Excellence.

In 2010, Byron founded the Center for Board Excellence (commonly known as "CBE") and is the architect of a governance software platform to facilitate board and CEO evaluations and streamline the Directors & Officers Questionnaire (D&O) process, governance products that benefit over 10,000 board members globally. Having grown to become an internationally recognized governance brand and innovator in board evaluation effectiveness, CBE was acquired by Nasdaq in 2019.

Over the past 25 years, Byron has been CEO of two companies and has served on several boards. He is a trusted advisor to board members and CEOs at companies around the world. Byron is also an educator, author, and frequent speaker on innovation, entrepreneurship, and corporate governance.
