The members of Law360's 2020 Tax Authority State & Local Editorial Advisory Board are:

Hugh Wesley Goodwin, DLA Piper

Hugh concentrates in state and local tax including taxation of e-commerce transactions. He is experienced in tax planning and tax controversy representation throughout the audit and appeal process in sales and use tax matters. Hugh also advises franchisors and other clients on income tax and gross receipts tax matters.

Richard Jones, Sullivan & Worcester LLP

Richard Jones is a partner at Sullivan & Worcester and heads the firm's Tax Group. He represents large companies and high net-worth individuals in all stages of state tax controversies, from administrative appeals to litigation. He has broad experience practicing before the Massachusetts Appellate Tax Board, the Supreme Judicial Court and various state departments of revenue.

Matthew Larsen, Baker Botts LLP

Baker Botts partner Matthew Larsen represents clients in state and local tax planning, controversies, incentives and legislation in Texas and other states. He assists clients in structuring operations and transactions to reduce state and local taxes. He advises on real estate transactions, asset and stock sales, and mergers.

Matthew Mock, Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP

Matthew Mock is a partner in the Chicago Tax Practice Group of Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP. He advises clients on state and local tax litigation and planning, regularly representing them in all stages of state and local tax controversies, including sales tax, income tax and unclaimed property disputes.

Arthur J. Parham, Entergy Services LLC

Arthur Parham is General Tax Advisor at Entergy Corporation, where he focuses on state tax planning for Entergy Corporation and subsidiaries. Before joining Entergy, Parham completed a long career at EY, where he also focused on state tax. Parham currently serves as chair of the board of the Council on State Taxation.

Leah Robinson, Mayer Brown LLP

Leah Robinson leads Mayer Brown's SALT group. A partner in the firm's New York office, she advises public and private business entities on planning, controversy and litigation, providing national and state tax strategy and audit assistance for clients on a full range of tax matters.

Breen Schiller, Horwood Marcus & Berk Chartered

Breen is a partner and chair of HMB's State and Local Tax Group. She focuses her practice on all manners of SALT planning, audit defense and the litigation of sophisticated multistate and local tax issues, representing clients from privately held midsize companies to multinational and multistate Fortune 100 corporations.

Gregory S. Matson, Multistate Tax Commission

Gregory S. Matson is executive director of the Multistate Tax Commission. He has worked for the IRS, D.C.'s Office of Tax and Revenue, and for Tax Executives Institute. He joined MTC's staff in 2006. He received a J.D. from the University of Utah and an LL.M. from Villanova's Graduate Tax Program.
