

Law360's 2020 Gov't Contracts Editorial Advisory Board

Law360 (April 6, 2020, 5:16 PM EDT) -- Law360 is pleased to announce the formation of its 2020 Government Contracts Editorial Advisory Board.

The editorial advisory board provides feedback on Law360's coverage and expert insight on how best to shape future coverage.

The members of Law360's 2020 Government Contracts Editorial Advisory Board are:

Jonathan Baker, Crowell & Moring LLP

Jon Baker is a partner with Crowell & Moring. Baker advises clients on a variety of government contracts issues, including bid protests, prime-sub disputes, regulatory compliance, other transactions, and claims. His practice has a notable emphasis on technology-related issues, including counseling clients in the areas of patent and data rights.

Aron Beezley, Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP

Aron Beezley is the co-leader of Bradley's government contracts practice group. Beezley's vast experience includes representation of government contractors in all aspects of the government-contracting process, including negotiation, award, performance and termination. His practice is particularly focused on the litigation of contract claims and bid protests.

Stacy Hadeka, Hogan Lovells US LLP

Stacy Hadeka is a senior associate at Hogan Lovells. Hadeka's practice encompasses all areas of government contracting, including compliance, investigative, transactional, and litigation matters. Prior to joining Hogan Lovells, Hadeka worked as in-house counsel for a major defense contractor and also clerked with the Civilian Board of Contract Appeals.

Karen Harbaugh, Squire Patton Boggs (US) LLP

Partner Karen Harbaugh focuses on U.S. government contracts and national security matters related to the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States. With two decades of experience, she advises global companies providing goods and services in industries such as professional services, information technology, and manufacturing on the regulatory requirements of doing business with the government.

Amy Hoang, K&L Gates LLP

Amy Hoang is an associate in the K&L Gates government contracts group and U.S. national security law and policy group. Recognized by Law360 as a “Government Contracts Rising Star,” she counsels clients on a wide range of federal procurement issues with a focus on bid protests and “Buy American” requirements.

Brian Kaveney, Armstrong Teasdale LLP

Brian Kaveney is founder and leader of Armstrong Teasdale’s industrial security practice, serving clients and their facilities globally. A former U.S. Marine Corps infantry captain and member of the Secretary of the Navy’s staff, Kaveney has a national reputation in security clearance, government contracts, and federal administrative and regulatory issues.

Marko Kipa, IBM

Marko Kipa serves as counsel and trust & compliance officer for IBM’s U.S. Public & Federal Market. He previously worked at an Am Law 100 law firm in its nationally ranked government contracts practice. He has handled the full array of government contracting matters and has published extensively in the field.

Marcia Madsen, Mayer Brown LLP

Marcia Madsen is chair and founder of the government contracts practice and co-chair of the national security practice at Mayer Brown. She has represented clients in regulatory, policy, transactional, litigation and investigative matters for 30 years. She is a thought leader who has chaired numerous committees and special commissions.

Ralph C. Mayrell, Robbins Russell Englert Orseck Untereiner & Sauber LLP
Ralph C. Mayrell is an associate at Robbins Russell. He has represented defense contractors in False Claims Act cases and contract disputes in the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals and federal courts, in cases at the intersection of white-collar investigations and contracting issues like cost-contracting. He also works on antitrust, bankruptcy and commercial litigation.

Steven Masiello, Dentons
Chair of Dentons' U.S. government contracts group, Steven Masiello successfully resolves complex contracting matters, including accounting, cost and pricing compliance, fraud, protests, claims, intellectual property disputes, corporate transactions, national defense, and pandemic stockpiling and response agreements under the Defense Production Act and the Public Readiness and Emergency Preparedness Act.

Scott McCaleb, Wiley Rein LLP
Scott McCaleb, co-chair of Wiley's industry-leading government contracts practice, has been named as a leading lawyer by virtually every ranking publication. He is a three-time Law360 MVP, a former Federal Circuit law clerk, and serves on the Advisory Council for both the Court of Federal Claims and the Federal Circuit.

Mike McGill, Arnold & Porter
Mike McGill, an Arnold & Porter partner and former Law360 MVP, represents clients across virtually all industries that do business with government customers and handles some of the most complex litigation and transactional matters in the space — from leading bet-the-company protest litigation to advising public corporations on transformational mergers.

--Editing by Emily Kokoll.