14:20-15:35	Suite No. 293 Sapphire/ Second Floor	Special Project BOS 1: Toolbox of an Efficient Cartel Hunter Detection of cartels is a challenging task for mature and developing competition authorities alike. This breakout is an opportunity to take a closer look at the authorities' arsenal of cartel detection tools and how it is being bolstered in keeping with the changes in business environment and technology. Representatives of member agencies will share their practical experience in employing various pro-active and reactive cartel detection techniques and the related challenges. The questions that will take centre-stage are: How useful are the structural and behavioural screens in detection of cartels? What are the likelihood of false positives/false negatives in relying on screens? What are the latest developments in screening methods for detection of bid rigging in public procurement? How the authorities are honing their leniency programmes? Can whistleblowing campaigns be an effective tool for unravelling cartels? Is the current toolbox equipped to detect collusion in the digital space? Are the authorities employing new tools for detecting digital collusion <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Manoj Pandey, Advisor, India CC (Moderator) • Sofia Vasileiou, Case Handler, EC DG Comp • Ricardo Oliveira, NGA, Portugal • Sara Gutiérrez, NGA, Mexico
	Banquet hall Third Floor	AWG BOS 1: Effective Advocacy in the Digital World (linked to the Strategy Project) Join us for this session aimed at discussing approaches on how competition authorities can conduct effective advocacy efforts in an increasingly dynamic and technology-driven environment. One of the most frequent concerns expressed through forums and publications on competition advocacy is the impact of digital media and technology on the actions and responsibilities of competition agencies. The AWG Co-Chairs consider it important to promote active discussions on these issues so that attending agencies can gather experiences from other authorities that may be useful in their own jurisdictions. The BOS is expected to be based on speaker presentations. The panel will consist of one moderator and three speakers (four panelists in total). Time will be allowed for a Q&A session.

10:15-11:30	Friendship Lounge Third Floor	Special Project BOS 2: Tender Design and Competition Public Procurement Effective competition among suppliers helps public institutions realize best value for money in their procurement of goods and services. Tender design can play an important role in fostering competition and reducing the risk of anti-competitive behaviour in public procurement. At the same time, preferential policies and/or unnecessarily stringent specifications in tenders can limit market participation and thereby create conditions conducive for collusion. In view of this, the panellists will discuss the tender design issues that may have arisen in their respective jurisdictions as also the policies and strategies that the competition authorities are adopting in helping governments and public bodies design effective tenders and public procurement programmes. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Paola González Sanz, Spain, CNMC (Moderator) Sayanti Chakrabarti, Joint Director, India CC Sara Nyman, World Bank Group
