

Ryan Morgan

FCPA Specialist

Ryan is the FCPA Specialist for WorldCompliance, offering clients' insight on risk evaluation, implementing effective due diligence policies, as well as best practices in protecting their company's reputation. In this position, Ryan has worked with several major Fortune 500 companies as well as financial institutions around the world to develop effective FCPA policies and procedures.

In 2007, Ryan joined WorldCompliance where he began servicing financial companies in North America and the Caribbean. Mr. Morgan has attended industry conferences focused on preventing corruption, money laundering, and terrorism financing all over the world. He has also participated in workshops where he consulted the US government on ways to fight drug trafficking in the US and Latin America.

Prior to WorldCompliance, Ryan worked as a consultant with Wolters Kluwers where he advised financial institutions on ways to stay in compliance with US Banking laws. Mr. Morgan started out his career in the financial services division of Donaldson, Lufkin, and Jenrette in Miami.

Ryan Morgan has a Bachelor of Science in Finance from Missouri State University and was recently certified as an Anti-Money Laundering Specialist through Florida International Bankers Association.
